
Problems of Technogenic Civilization: An Antropologic Discourse

May 12, 2006

Chaired by Dr. Igor Kalnoy (Ukraine), Dr. Felix Lazarev (Ukraine)

Igor Kalnoy (Simferopol), Ph.D. (Philosophy), Professor, Chair of the Social Philosophy, Tavrida National University.

Felix Lazarev (Simferopol), Ph.D. (Philosophy), Professor, Chair of Philosophy, Tavrida National University.

Alexei Shorkin (Simferopol), Ph.D. (Philosophy), Professor, Dean of the Philosophy Department, Tavrida National University.

Oleg Gabrielyan (Simferopol), Ph.D. (Philosophy), Professor, Chair of Political Science, Tavrida National University.

Vladimir Kizima (Kiev), Ph.D. (Philosophy), Professor, Chair of the Philosophy of Science and Culture Studies, Center for Education in Humanities, National Academy of Sciences of Ukraine.

Boris Yudin (Moscow), Ph.D. (Philosophy), Professor, Associate of the Russian Academy of Sciences, Department Director of the Institute of Philosophy, the Russian Academy of Sciences.

Valery Gubin (Moscow), Ph.D. (Philosophy), Professor, Dean of the Philosophy Department, Russian State University of Humanities.

Sergei Lebedev (Moscow), Ph.D. (Philosophy), Professor, Chair of Philosophy of the Institute for Continued Education, Moscow State University.

Vladislav Klochkov (Kiev), post-graduate student of the Institute of Philosophy of the National Academy of Sciences of Ukraine.

International Association for Education "Man and the Christian Worldview"
Academy of Sciences of Crimea
Tavrida National University
Crimean Medical University
Crimean-American College

International Symposium MAN AND THE CHRISTIAN WORLDVIEW

The Sacred and the Secular in Science, Medicine, and Society

Roundtable Discussion
May 10-13, 2006

PROGRAM

Session I • May 11, 2006 • 10:00am—1:00pm

Georges Carillet (Indialantic, USA & Simferopol), D.Min. (Biblical Studies & Theology), Professor, Vice-President of Crimean-American College (International Affairs), Director of the Institute of Theology and Philosophy of Commonwealth International University, Founder of International Association for Education "Man and the Christian Worldview." The Sacred and Secular: Worldviews in Collision

Boris Yudin (Moscow), Ph.D. (Philosophy), Professor, Associate of the Russian Academy of Sciences, Department Head of the Philosophy Institute, the Russian Academy of Sciences. Man in the World of Modern Technologies

Alexander Volchenko (Simferopol), M.D., Candidate of Sciences (Medical Science), Associate Professor of Crimean Medical University. Sergei Yanovsky (Simferopol), M.D., Candidate of Sciences (Medical Science), Psychiatrist, Substance Abuse Therapist. The Gift of Health and the Price of Health Protection

Valery Gubin (Moscow), Ph.D. (Philosophy), Professor, Dean of the Philosophy Department, Russian State University of Humanities. Mood and Human Nature

Alexander Tsvetkov (Simferopol), Candidate of Sciences (Philosophy), Associate Professor, Research Assistant to the Dean of the Philosophy Department, Tavrida National University. The Decalogue—The Sacred and The Secular

Session II • May 11, 2006 • 3:00–7:00pm (4:30pm–Break)

Igor Kalnoy (Simferopol), Ph.D. (Philosophy), Professor, Chair of Social Philosophy, Tavrida National University. Man and His Values

Thomas K. Johnson (Prague), Ph.D. (Philosophy), Director of Komensky Institute of Prague, Fellow of the International Institute for Christian Studies. Human Rights and Christian Ethics

Margarita Trifonova (Simferopol), Candidate of Sciences (Philosophy), Associate Professor, Vice-President of the Crimean College of Humanities, Associate of the Crimean Academy of Sciences. The Sacred Ordinary

Vladimir Kizima (Kiev), Ph.D. (Philosophy), Professor, Chair of the Philosophy of Science and Culture Studies, Center for Education in Liberal Arts, National Academy of Sciences of Ukraine. Anthropoexistia of Man

Sergei Lebedev (Moscow), Ph.D. (Philosophy), Professor, Chair of Philosophy of the Institute for Continued Education, Moscow State University. Spirit and Soul as Categories of Philosophic Anthropology

Marina Savelieva (Kiev), Ph.D. (Philosophy), Professor, member of the steering committee of the Center for Orthodoxy and Ancient Russian Culture at the Department of Religious Studies and History of Religion, Saint-Petersburg State University. The Correlation Issue of "Sacral" and "Sacred" Phenomena

Session III • May 12, 2006 • 10:00am–1:00pm

Oleg Syropyatov (Kiev), M.D., D.M.Sc., Professor of the Military Therapy Department (Psychiatry, Psychotherapy), Ukrainian Military Medical Academy, Professor of Medical Psychology and Psychological Correction, Interregional Academy of Human Resource Management. Stigma in Psychiatry and How to Overcome It

Yuliya Vyaltseva (Simferopol), M.D., B.Theol., Assistant Professor of the Department of Pediatric Infectious Diseases, Crimean State Medical University. HIV/AIDS and Medical Confidentiality: The Conflict of Moral and Legal Laws

Douglas Wadson (Melbourne, USA), M.D., private practice in Family Medicine; Fellow of the American Academy of Family Physicians. Should Doctors Pray With Their Patients?

Leopold Malafeyev (Simferopol), Ph.D. (Philosophy), Professor of the Political Science Department, Tavrida Ecological Institute, Fellow of the Crimean Academy of Sciences and the International Academy of Political Science. Relation of Sacralization and Secularization in the Modern World

Session IV • May 12, 2006 • 3:00–7:00pm (4:30pm–Break)

Valery Pavlov (Kiev), Candidate of Sciences (Philosophy), Associate Professor of the Philosophy Department, Ukrainian State University of Food Technologies. Semantic Fields of the Terms "Secular" and "Sacred"

Yelena Nevelskaya-Gordeyeva (Kharkov), Candidate of Sciences (Philosophy), Associate Professor of the Department of Logic, National Law Academy of Ukraine. The Sacralization of the Profane and the Secularization of the Sacred in Modern Culture

Oleg Nikolenko (Odessa), Candidate of Sciences (Philosophy), Associate Professor of the Philosophy Department, Odessa National University, Professor of Odessa Institute of Information Technologies. Methodology of the Studies of "Sustaining Diversity": the Sacred and the Profane in the "Penitence of Science"

Anton Tolmachov (Kurchatov), a practicing lawyer, attorney, member of the "United Russia" Party. Church and State: Reflections of a Christian Lawyer

Yevgeny Ustinovich (Simferopol), Professor of Crimean-American College, Deputy Director of the Institute of Philosophy and Theology, external post-graduate student for Candidate of Sciences degree (Linguistics), Candidate for the Masters in Biblical Studies. Leo Tolstoy's Secular Christianity and Dostoyevsky's Sacred Empire

Natalya Shelkovaya (Kharkov), Candidate of Sciences (Philosophy), Associate Professor of the Culture Studies Department, Kharkov National University of Pedagogy. Mysticism As the Highest Level of Religious Spirituality and Humanness

Session V • May 13, 2006 • 10:00am–1:00pm

Felix Lazarev (Simferopol), Ph.D. (Philosophy), Professor, Chair of Philosophy, Tavrida National University. The Holiday as a Holy Day

Rick Deighton (Nampa, USA), B.A., businessman, Northwest Representative for Peace On Earth Ministries, Evangelist with White Fields Overseas Evangelism. The Place of Creationism in Scientific Knowledge

Vladislav Olkhovsky (Kiev), D.Sc. (Physics & Mathematics), Professor, Head of the Research Department of the Institute for Nuclear Research of the National Academy of Sciences of Ukraine, Fellow of the American Mathematical Society and Ukrainian Physics Society, Associate of the Academies of Sciences of Messina and Catania, Fellow of the New York Academy of Sciences. The Choice Between Two Worldviews in Contemporary Science: "Supernatural" vs. "Blind Chance"
